

SECTOR EXPERTS INTO TRAINING

Nuclear and Clean Energy

- Can you support the delivery of skills for nuclear?
- Do you have the relevant knowledge and industry experience to share with the future workforce?

Your skills could help shape the next generation!

We are looking for people who are passionate about wanting to make a difference. Sector Experts into Training aims to develop a programme to attract and retain industry professionals in a variety of mentoring, coaching, assessing, teaching, and training roles so that people can pass on their expert knowledge and experience to students who are coming through Further Education.

Applicants at all stages of their careers will be considered. You will be matched to a role that complements your skills and the time you are able to commit to. If you can commit to a few hours here and there, to part-time or even full-time then we want to hear from you.

Opportunities in the North-west are available through the NCfN provider network.
